LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Winthrop Rockefeller will go on a statewide television network Saturday night to say whether he will be a candidate for governor on the Republican ticket.

Rockefeller said today he would speak at 6:20 p.m. The network, he said, also will include one station in Memphis and one in Tulsa, Okla.

The GOP national committee man has said he seriously is considering entering the race. He said he will hold a news conference earlier Saturday.

On the Democratic political front today, matted pictures of Marvin Melton of Jonesboro were distributed to newspapers over the state with the note: "It is highly possible you will need this at an early date."

Melton resigned Wednesday as board chairman of the state Chamber of Commerce and said he would announce this week whether he will be a candidate for governor in the Democratic primary this summer. Melton was scheduled to speak at a banquet in Newport tonight.

Melton said he resigned from the chamber board because he was considering the governor's race and did not want to "involve the chamber in the campaign."

Another significant development Wednesday was Mack Sturgis' acceptance of an appointment as chief of the Right of Way Division of the state Highway Department.

Sturgis, a top advisor for Gov. Orval E. Faubus, has served as Faubus' purchasing agent since 1955.

His move Wednesday was taken in most quarters as a further indication that Faubus will not run. Faubus, however, declined comment on the development and told newsmen not to "bet either way" about what he will do.

Sturgis' appointment is effective May 1.

A pot being collected by Melton supporters in various areas around the state grew to some $31,500 Wednesday when a Monticello group contributed $1,500 to help finance his campaign.

V. B. McCloy, a former Monticello mayor, said an effort was underway to form a Melton for Governor booster organization.

Other possible candidates for the Democratic nomination were silent on their plans.

$11,033 Judgment Is Appealed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—College Trailer Sales of Jonesboro appealed to the Arkansas Supreme Court today from a Chancery Court judgment of $11,033 alleged due to Hester Mobile Homes Manufacturing Co. of Blytheville. Chancellor Gene Bradley awarded the manufacturing company $10,689 unpaid balance on six trailers, and $397 interest.

The Hester firm contended Howard Thompson, operator of College Trailer Sales, failed to follow through on agreements under which the Blytheville company furnished him the six trailers.

Sick Captives Ransomed From Castro

By GEORGE ARFELD

HAVANA (AP)—Fifty-four sick or wounded captives of the Bay of Pigs invasion are to be released Saturday following the payment of ransom into a Canadian bank. Negotiations will continue for the ransoming of more of the 1,179 invasion prisoners.

A spokesman for the committee who negotiated the release of the first group said they would be flown to Miami on Saturday with two doctors accompanying them.

Their release was arranged by a committee of four exiles who came here Tuesday from the United States after a military tribunal found the invaders guilty of treason and set ransoms on their heads ranging from $25,000 to $500,000. Otherwise they face 30 years in prison.

A Havana television broadcast said the Cuban Families Committee in the United States had agreed with Prime Minister Castro to continue negotiations for the freedom of the rest of the prisoners. But there was no indication that Castro was cutting the prices put on the individual captives.

The ransoms set by the Cuban tribunal totaled $62 million. The families committee said it had collected only about $26 million and hoped its negotiators could buy freedom for all the prisoners for that amount.

A Havana broadcast said the prisoners whose ransom has been set at the lowest amount—$25,000—would be the first ones freed as soon as the money was paid.

President Kennedy at his news conference Wednesday ruled out any U.S. government part in the negotiations to free the prisoners. He said that Castro knows the "United States government cannot engage in negotiations like that." He added that Castro also knows the families of the prisoners cannot raise the sums he asked for their freedom.

The negotiating committee held two long sessions with Castro before the plans for the first release were announced Wednesday night. Relatives of the captives met for 3½ hours Wednesday night with the committee and emerged saying they had received very good news.

Informants said they could not elaborate as Castro had requested that all announcements be left to him.

Havana broadcasts said the ransom money would be deposited in the Royal Bank of Canada at Montreal for transfer to the National Bank of Cuba. Canada continues to have commercial relations with Cuba and has no restriction on transfer of funds to Cuba as the United States has. Names of the first 54 scheduled to be freed from Havana's Principe Prison were not announced immediately.

Mrs. Norrell May Be Treasurer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Catherine Norrell, D-Ark., reportedly is being considered for appointment as Treasurer of the United States.

Mrs. Norrell said Wednesday she had not voiced any interest in the job and had not been approached as to whether she wanted it.

Published reports here have listed Mrs. Norrell among those being considered to succeed Mrs. Elizabeth Rudel Smith of California, who is reported to have submitted her resignation to the White House.

The districts represented by Mrs. Norrell and Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., have been combined. Harris has announced that he will seek re-election but Mrs. Norrell has made no decision.

She said Wednesday that if the treasurer's post were offered her, she would "certainly have to think it over," but added that she wasn't expecting it to be offered. Mrs. Norrell said she would announce her decision about seeking re-election after visiting Arkansas next week.

Four Year Term

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State Rep. Lonnie Etheridge of Jackson County said Wednesday he would introduce in the 1963 legislature a proposed constitutional amendment limiting Arkansas governors to one four year term. The legislature is allowed to propose three constitutional amendments every two years. Proposals similar to Etheridge's have been unsuccessful in previous attempts to submit them to the people.

Another to Run for State Secy.

WYNNE, Ark. (AP)—Carroll (Bull) Durham, 51, a Wynne funeral home director, announced Wednesday that he would be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State.

Durham said he would file Saturday for the post, which already has attracted two other candidates — Kelly Bryant, field secretary of the Arkansas Sheriff's Association and State Rep. Milton Willis of Crawford County.

Durham attended Arkansas College and College of the Ozarks, where he graduated in 1933. He served as assistant director of the Arkansas State Police under former Gov. Ben Laney, leaving the department in 1948 to establish the Durham Funeral Home and Burial Association at Wynne. He said his filing fee would be paid with 100 $5 checks sent to him by Cross County residents urging him to run.

GOPs Stage Talkathon Against JFK

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republicans staged a nighttime talkathon against the Kennedy administration, but whether it was as effective as it was entertaining is debatable.

The six-hour show Wednesday night was not meant to be funny. A procession of Republican speakers tried grimly to stick to their appointed task of lambasting the administration but some Democrats made it difficult.

There was Rep. John C. Kluezyński, D-Ill., for instance. As the torrent of words continued he donned a pair of buff-colored ear muffs, put his feet up on the chair in front of him, and with an unlit cigar in his mouth read a newspaper.

And there was Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, who twice in the early going forced a halt while a quorum was counted up, and was talked out of others only by Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass.

McCormack finally put Hays in the speaker's chair, trying to forestall any further quorum calls. But trouble broke out on a new front.

As presiding officer, Hays was happy to announce the expiration of a speaker's time and reluctantly recognized a new one. His performance drew cries of rage from the Republicans who declared the chair out of order. This was a point on which Hays, as acting speaker, had to rule.

"Well, the chair is in the chair, so what are you going to do about it?" he replied, and gavelled the show along.

The talkfest was billed as "Operation Spring Thaw" and featured mainly the more conservative Republican members. Although Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck, R-Ind., stayed until the midnight quitting time, he took no part in the talks and any other House Republican Leader.

Rep. Bob Wilson, R-Calif., one of the sponsors, said the operation was designed to give Republicans a chance to counteract the "flannel-suited army of opinion makers" that has been spreading the administration's word.

The Republicans attacked President Kennedy's foreign, fiscal, domestic and defense policies. Their theme was given by Wilson was that the new frontier is not good for this country.

The Republicans kept from 40 to 50 members on the floor the entire time but the ranks of the Democrats ranged from a low of seven to a high of about 35 at adjournment. The galleries were well filled, with about 150 to 200 present at all times. Most were members of the District of Columbia Young Republicans Club.

Five Candidates Left in Race

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The race for Pulaski County Representative, Position 11, now has only five candidates.

Louis Nalley of Little Rock said Wednesday he was dropping out of the race on the advice of his physician, but might re-enter politics in 1964.

Nalley had announced for the post, but had not paid his filing fee.

Other candidates for the position, created March 12 by the state Supreme Court, are Roger C. Means Jr. of Charles, Haydon Carlton Chambers and Miss Louise Porter, Democrats, and Joseph Zeman, a Republican.

U.S. Is Considering Anti-trust Suit in Wake of Steel Hike

Demo Spending Blamed for Steel Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate-House Republican leadership said today that Democratic spending—rather than a rise in steel prices—poses the biggest danger of inflation.

The Republicans added that President Kennedy, in his attack on the steel industry for its $6-a-ton price increase, is looking in the wrong place for the basic cause of inflation.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Senate GOP leader, read to a news conference a leadership-approved statement which said:

"Apparently, everybody is supposed to make sacrifices except the New Frontier spenders."

He and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House party leader, agreed that the justification for the steel industry's action, would have to be determined by the facts developed in administration and congressional inquiries.

"It's well to wait until the facts are in," Halleck said.

But, the party leadership agreed at a meeting preceding the news conference that "The prime factor in inflation is excessive government spending."

"The Kennedy administration not only is setting records as the biggest spending administration in peace-time history, but it has been in red ink ever since the first day it took office."

Halleck suggested that Kennedy follow up his spending proposals with a 25th presidential message calling for a cutback in his requests for nondefense spending.

Dirksen said that Kennedy took a projected Eisenhower budget showing a surplus of $1.5 billion "and turned it into a deficit of $7 billion by increased spending last year."

Now, he said, instead of having the balanced budget called for in January, it is freely predicted "President Kennedy will have another deficit of $4 to $6 billion."

$1.5 Million for Motel at Spa

HOT SPRINGS (AP)—A 124-unit drive-in motor hotel will be built in Hot Springs at an estimated cost of $1.5 million.

Work began Wednesday on clearing the site at Central and West Grand Streets.

The three-story hotel will be constructed by C&B Construction Co. of Hot Springs. It will own the hotel jointly with King.

King said the hotel will have ground level parking, banquet and restaurant facilities for serving up to 250 persons and a heated swimming pool 25 by 50 feet.

Guards to Be Released by August

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (A)—More than 145,000 National Guardsmen and Reservists will go marching home from the cold war in August unless the Communists raise a new hot war threat.

This will clip as much as two months from the year they could have been kept in uniform under a special act authorizing their call to duty at the height of the Berlin crisis last fall.

But President Kennedy, in announcing plans for the August release, stressed Wednesday that these Army, Navy and Air Force units "will remain available, in a new and heightened state of combat readiness, if a new crisis should arise."

The decision to demobilize the Guard and Reserve does not stem from any marked change in the international situation which continues to have many dangers and tensions, Kennedy said at his news conference.

"It is the result, rather, of our successful buildup of permanent instead of emergency strength," he said.

Because of higher draft calls and enlistments, the nation's regular armed forces will total 2,680,700 next September after the Guard and Reserves return home. "This will be about 200,000 more than last June 30, before the Berlin crisis mobilization began."

In a mark of gratitude, Kennedy said "I know that I speak for 11 Americans in paying tribute to all those whose emergency service in this year of growing national strength is doing so much for the national interest."

The Army, which has 110,000 of the Guardsmen and Reservists under arms, informed Congress it plans to move major units to their home stations during the first 10 days of August. All units, it said, will be released before Sept. 1.

The exact dates for release of specific units hinge on transportation and processing requirements the Army said.

Says Act Shows Disregard to the Public

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Justice Department lawyers were reported considering today possible antitrust action aimed at breaking up the powerful U.S. Steel Co., which touched off the steel price rise.

Sources close to the situation acknowledged that as an angered administration held a top level White House conference on the increase, there was no sign of immediate action from that meeting.

President Kennedy, who had already delivered a hot blast at the industry's action, sat in on the White House session for a time. "Big Steel" started the round of price rises Tuesday night with a boost of $6 a ton, and the other big producers quickly fell in line. Informed sources said antitrust action aimed at the industry giant was one of the "several avenues" of action to which Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy referred last night.

But they emphasized that studies of what action the department might take were still in the early stages.

The attorney general, in an interview, had said the department was "already taking action" but declined to discuss details.

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time in his administration President Kennedy engaged in furious battle with a major segment of U.S. industry. He threw himself into the fight with a charge that big steel showed ruthless disregard of the public by raising prices.

Kennedy launched the attack Wednesday at a news conference in which he denounced U.S. Steel Corp. and fellow steel price hikers with the strongest language he has leveled at anyone or anything since becoming president.

His voice rising, his forefinger poking for emphasis, Kennedy said steel price boosters had displayed "outr contempt for the interests of 185 million Americans." He said their "pursuit of private power and profit exceeds their sense of public responsibility."

Kennedy made important announcements at his meeting with newsmen.

Barring serious deterioration of the international situation, he said, the 45,000 Reservists and National Guardsmen called to active duty last year will be allowed to return home in August.

The government would seek a Taft-Hartley injunction to force an 80 day cooling off period in

Small Damage From Tornado

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Damage from a small tornado that touched down west of Gosnell, Ark., Tuesday night has been estimated at $4,000.

No injuries were reported. Witnesses said the small funnel dipped to the ground and ripped the roof from the Boyce Moore pawn shop near Blytheville Air Force Base.

A neon sign outside the shop was torn down and a 10-inch steel pole was bent. A contractor's shack on the air base was demolished.

Moore estimated damage to his roof at $3,000 and damage to the sign at $900.

Alton Lair, an employee of the shop, was inside at the time, but he was not injured.

the West Coast shipping strike.
(It got the injunction a short time later).

But though the half hour, either he or newsmen put the focus on steel.

Kennedy said the United Steelworkers Union, which signed a contract he thought would hold prices in line, abided by its responsibilities. "And this government also has responsibilities which we intend to meet," he added.

In view of the speed with which other steel manufacturers fell in line behind U.S. Steel, he said the Justice Department and Federal Trade Commission will determine whether any laws have been broken. He obviously had at least the antitrust laws in mind.

Congressional committees will inquire into the need for new laws, he said.

Throughout the steel negotiations, Kennedy said, his administration sought no commitments from the companies or union. He and Secretary of Labor Arthur J.
Goldberg, he insisted, emphasized the government's only interest was obtaining an agreement that would not precipitate a price increase.

Not only is there no justification for an increase, Kennedy asserted, but labor costs per ton of steel can be expected to decline in the next year. Industry earnings have been high, he said, yet
"a few gigantic corporations have decided to increase prices in ruthless disregard of their public responsibilities."

When not unloading wrath on the steelmakers, Kennedy had this to say on other subjects:

Reseries—The forthcoming release of men called to duty at the height of the Berlin emergency does not reflect a change in the international situation which continues to have many dangers and tensions. He said it's made possible by a buildup in permanent strength. After the release, the Army will have 16 combat-ready divisions as against 11 a year ago.

Troops—He has asked Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to cut $1.1 billion from the present $3 billion annual cost of supporting troops and bases abroad. He said this would help balance the flow of dollars, in and out, observing that money to bear the expense of keeping armed forces overseas must come from a surplus of exports over imports.

Very sympathetic with the desire of GIs to have their families with them, he said, the administration is analyzing the importance of the saving realized by curbing travel of dependents.

Alert—Kennedy said a false alarm that prompted a Strategic Air Command alert last fall had not put the country on the brink of war. It would have taken several hours to get planes on their way, he said, "and we were always in control."

Berlin—The return of Gen. Lucius D. Clay from a tour as Kennedy's personal representative in Berlin does not mean, as a newsmen put it, the Berlin crisis now is negotiable. Clay will continue as a consultant. "So his service continues and the problem of Berlin continues."

Viet Nam—He is extremely concerned by the killing of U.S. soldiers in Viet Nam, but the U.S. cannot desist in efforts to keep South Viet Nam out of Communist hands.

Fidel Castro—The Cuban prime minister, Kennedy said, well knows the United States cannot negotiate on his offer to ransom prisoners captured in last year's attempted invasion nor can their families raise the demanded millions. The offer, he said, demonstrates "why Mr. Castro is increasingly isolated from the company of free men."

Welfare Meeting

six social and welfare organizations will be represented here to-

Teachers Return to Their Jobs

NEW YORK (AP) — Striking public school teachers were sent back to their classrooms today by their union after a one-day walkout that disrupted operations at practically all of the city's 900 schools.

Union leaders counted on early-morning radio news broadcasts to carry the back-to-work call to the teachers. They had been instructed to listen carefully to the programs for strike developments.

The decision to end the strike was announced at 3:30 a.m. after a seven-hour meeting of the executive board of the AFL-CIO
United Federation of Teachers.

Union President Charles Cogen said the board voted 32 to 12 to obey a State Supreme Court order against the strike which was obtained Wednesday by the Board of Education.

Cogen, although denouncing the court order, said the teachers had to obey it and return to work or run the risk of severe penalties.

More than half of the city's 40,000 teachers stayed away from their classrooms Wednesday in the strike for higher pay. Cogen set the absentee figure at 30,000 teachers.

More than a score of schools were closed down, and their tens of thousands of pupils were turned loose. Scores of other schools merely went through the motions of conducting classes as teachers picketed outside.

Classroom discipline collapsed in many schools and idle pupils by the thousands ran wild inside the buildings and rampaged through the nearby streets.

Before the strike was called off, the Board of Education had said it would do its best again today to keep schools open for their one million pupils.

Gogen said the 1,000-member
United Federation of Teachers—bargaining agent for all 10,000 public school teachers—"expects that all teachers who supported the strike will be restored to duty without reprisals or penalties of any kind, direct or indirect."

A New York state law, the Condon-Wadlin Act prohibits strikes by public employees. The act, which the federation calls unconstitutional, provides for dismissal of violators. It allows their rehiring but with loss of certain pay increases and tenure rights.

The act was cited to the teachers here, but not actually invoked.
In announcing the end of the strike, Cogen said the union expects Mayor Robert F. Wagner
"to find the funds necessary for teachers' raises."

Appeals Judgment for Overplanting

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — James Weir of Dermott has appealed to the 8th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis a $1,972 judgment against him for overplanting his 1959 rice crop.

Weir, whose farm has been seized and put up for sale in order to satisfy the judgment, notified the U. S. District Court here Wednesday that he had filed the appeal.

Pending in the court is a request by Weir that the judgment be suspended until the appeal is heard. He said his farm would be sold if the stay is refused.

The government has agreed to the stay if Weir posts an appeal bond, but the district court clerk office said no bond has been filed as of Wednesday.

Weir has paid heavy penalties for the same violation in previous years.

The floodwaters from the King ening many homes. Nearly nine inches of rain pelted the city of 20,000 in a 10-hour period.

Severe thunderstorms with heavy rain and hail hit the Gulf reported in Stringer, Miss., Luf-

Showers dampened areas from the Gulf States northward into the Ohio Valley and the Middle At-

First Wife Still Calls the Turns

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My problem is my husband's former wife. She's tiny, wears her hair in a pony tail, skin-tight sweaters, short skirts, and doesn't look her 30 years. I'm big boned, motherly and look all of my 32 years.

Men gravitate to her: children and dogs to me. The sun rises and sets for me in my husband and I'm sure he loves me. Yet, inch by inch, I see that ex-femme fatale of his taking him over again and I worry not only for my sake but for his and the kids.

Between us we have four children: he a son by her; I, three by a former husband. The little boy was practically reared by his father from birth. The mother ran around with other men, drank and lived high. But, like most of the men she charmed, her husband was putty in her hands.

After the first divorce they remarried. But the second time it stuck, at least it has so far.

Being kind-hearted, my man has let his boy spend summer vacations with the ex-wife. She has remarried and divorced twice since, and has two other children —little girls.

First thing we knew that divider and her brood had moved to within 20 miles of us. Then her third husband walked out, I felt sorry for her and invited her and the two little girls down for a weekend.

"Take care," warned my in-laws, "she'll stab you in the back." Next thing, we received papers to appear in court. She wanted full custody of the boy. We won. But last summer that ex-wife was back again. Could she see the boy and night in our home? We said yes. I fixed a nice dinner and tried to be decent, though I was nervous. She said she had to have an operation and might not pull through. The little boy seemed to withdraw into a shell; called me Mom and referred to her as "She."

From that time on his grades at school have dropped; went from B's to D's. His father blames me! He never talks things out like he used to. That ex-wife's just moved next door with only a hedge between us. For a woman who's living on borrowed time!

she's sure going strong. My husband's folks say they'll be off him forever if he lets that vamp wreck his life again. Please, can you tell me what to do? — Forlorn Wife

Dear Forlorn: My job is not to tell you what to do but to help you to help yourself. That ex-wife evidently uses sex with a capital S to get her men. My guess is that you overplay the motherly role. There's no virtue in looking your 32 years. I admit that being big-boned, you can't try the sweater girl, pony-tail come on, but you can be queenly. If you're hefty, slim down. Take posture exercises. Learn to stand erect; hold your head high and walk with an air. Dress accordingly. Speak with authority. Command attention. In other words, take charge! If you don't that ex-wife certainly will!

Dear Helen: I am 17 and have been dating since 13. I'm intelligent and adhere to my moral code. Now I've fallen in love with a boy not of my faith. For this reason, we date secretly, knowing we can never marry because of our religious differences.

Loving this boy as I do, petting is instinctive yet, pleasurable as it is, I feel guilty afterwards. My girl friends say that petting is an expression of love and that if I really love my beau, I will not feel guilty afterwards.

1 question this. Has my yearning to pet cropped up because of the thrill of clandestine dating, or is it a genuine act of love? — Confused about Petting.

Dear Confused: Petting is just another name for the old biological urge, strongest in us during our adolescent years. One step leads to another. First the kiss, then necking and finally—forbidden territory! It's up to the girl to keep within the moral code for it is she, not the boy, who will pay the penalty for violating it, so have a care!

Dear Helen: My boy friend's work takes him to different parts of the country. I write him two letters to his one. The last time he wrote me was Christmas, though I did receive a lovely New Year's gift from him. His oldest sister complains that he never answers her letters. He's quite nice otherwise. Should I drop him a card and mention that a letter from him would be a pleasant surprise? Or should I wait to hear from him? — Suspense

Dear Suspense: Man, not woman, should be the pursuer. Play hard to get if you want to hold his interest. Let him write two letters to your one. If he doesn't, he's not the boy for you.

Musial Ruins Upstart Mets With His Bat

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

One game. Three hits. Another record. And a slap on the cheek for Father Time.

That's the way Stan Musial, 41, greeted the 1962 baseball campaign Wednesday night, leading the St. Louis Cardinals to an 11-4 opening game triumph over the debuting New York Mets.

Musial, whose batting average dipped to .228 last year and stirred talk of an impending battle with Father Time, poked three hits, drew a walk, drove in two runs and scored once for a perfect performance.

The run was the 1,850th of his 21-year career and tied the National League record established by the New York Giants' Mel Ott.

Musial, who holds or shares 13 major league records, now has set or tied 38 NL marks.

Houston's new Colts won their second in succession with a 2-0 victory over Chicago. Sandy Koufax pitched a four-hitter as Los Angeles whipped Cincinnati 6-2, and Billy O'Dell checked Milwaukee on four hits for a 2-1 San Francisco victory.

In the American League, Boston whipped Cleveland 4-0 in 12 innings and Minnesota blanked Kansas City 8-0 on four hits. Detroit and Washington were rained out. The other clubs were not scheduled.

Musial's three hits and four by Julian Javier paced a 16-hit attack that backed Larry Jackson's route-going performance. The Red Birds won it with three in the third off Mets starter Roger Craig. Musial scoring the run that clinched it for St. Louis on Minnie Minoso's single. Jackie Neal and Gil Hodges.

Hal Smith's two-run single in the first inning off Cubs ace Glenn Hobbie proved the difference for the Colts with Hal Woodeshick and Dick Farrell combining for the shutout.

Koufax, usually a late starter who had only one previous April victory in his career, got off strong against the Reds. After leadoff hitter Eddie Kasko hit a double to open the game, Koufax pitched hitless ball until the ninth when Cincinnati scored twice.

Jim Gilliam's two-run homer iced a four-run Dodgers uprising in the third inning that tagged Moe Drabowsky with the loss.

Willie Mays' two-run homer in the first inning off Braves' starter Carl Willey and Jose Pagan's solo shot in the second accounted for the Giants runs while O'Dell was firing 'em up. O'Dell, who struck out nine, had the bases empty when Eddie Mathews tagged him for a homer in the fourth.

The daughter of Mark Twain (Samuel Clemens) married Ossip Gabrilowitsch, a noted orchestra conductor.

Ozarks Sign 11

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Letters of intent to attend College of the Ozarks on athletic scholarships have been signed by 13 high school football players from four schools in Arkansas, Texas and Tennessee.

Coach Don Jones said Wednesday that the group included five from Van Buren, four from Clarksville, two from Memphis, and two from Texarkana, Tex.

Most of those signing were chosen as members of all-district teams last year.

The household gardener, tucked under from raking, pruning and planting this weekend, will welcome a hearty meal, and the nation's supermarkets are cooperating with a good variety of main course specials.

Steaks and roasts are featured generally, with chuck roasts good buys in the Northeast and some fancy steak cuts, including porterhouse and sirloin, at relative bargain prices in the Midwest.

Pork loins are budget priced generally this weekend and prices are down many places on lamb chops and legs.

Chickens are another attraction, with broiler-fryers continuing low.

For pick-me-up snacks, cheese, cottage cheese, and other dairy products are attractively priced. Eggs are about unbeatable this weekend for economy.

Fish attractions are numerous, with smelt and lake perch special bargains in the Midwest.

Vegetable buys include carrots, corn, lettuce, onions, potatoes and tomatoes.

Karam Will Not Be Candidate

LITTLE ROCK (A) — James T. (Jimmy) Karam of Little Rock said Wednesday he would not be a candidate for governor in this year's election.

Karam, a clothier, said previously he thought the people needed a "good, Christian" candidate in the governor's office and volunteered to run if anyone could persuade him he "could better serve his Lord" in that capacity.

Karam is a recent convert to the Baptist Church and a lay lecturer. He said Wednesday that most of the persons he talked to after his announcement indicated a desire to see Gov. Orval E. Faubus change his mind and run for a fifth term.

TV BIRTHDAY
Just 35 years ago, on April 7, 1927, a history-making experiment was completed.

By means of special equipment developed by Bell Telephone Laboratories scientists, an image of then Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover was flashed from Washington, D. C., to New York and television was born.

Today, Bell Labs research continues to bring you new services each year.

The transistor, the Bell solar battery, and customer distance dialing are only three of the revolutionary advances of recent years. This research will always give you the finest telephone service in the world.

Boys Willing to Learn, Broyles Says

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—"It's not that we have more hitters this year, its just that we have more boys who look like they want to learn how to hit," Frank Broyles said Wednesday.

The University of Arkansas head coach praised the attitude of his football players, but cursed the weather as the spring practice session ended.

The squad viewed films of the preceding day's practice, then got down to some real leather-popping.

"We're seeing a little improvement each day," Broyles said later. Singled out for individual praise were freshman Mike Hales of Little Rock, a weakside guard and sophomore quarterback Billy Gray of Helena and Freddy Marshall of Memphis.

"That Marshall throws the ball real well," Broyles commented, "and I don't think hales was blocked all day." Gray, he said, had his best day.

Bid Higher But Was Accepted
LITTLE ROCK (A)—The state Highway Department awarded a construction contract to the D&W Bridge Co. of North Little Rock Wednesday, although the firm's bid was about $90,000 higher than the apparent low bid.

D&W's bid on a contract for construction of three bridges in Perry County was $104,133. J. W. McCracken Co., of Conway bid $14,923 on the projects.

The McCracken bid was entered erroneously, the Highway Department said.

McClinton Bros. Construction Co., of Fayetteville was awarded a contract previously given to Southeast Construction Co. of Pine Bluff.

McClinton submitted a bid of $209,006 on a contract for work on Highway 103 south of Green Forest and was found to be low on a re-check.

The announced low bid was Southeastern's $213,006.

TELEPHONE TALK

by Lena Maryman, Chief Operator, Hope, Ark.

BOLT FIRST - WRENCH SECOND

A friend of mine was helping a man repair his house not long ago. The man was up on a ladder and asked for some tools and materials he needed for the repairs. My friend absent-mindedly handed him everything at once.

"I can't use the wrench until I drill the hole and get the bolt in place," he reminded me.

This incident reminded me of the Long Distance Operator when she places our Long Distance Calls.

The operator uses the calling information in a certain order and it helps if we give her the information in that order. Dial "Operator" and give her the information in this order:

1. AREA CODE for the city you are calling.
2. TELEPHONE NUMBER
3. Person You Are Calling (if it is a Person-to-Person call).

4. WAIT. DO NOT give her your number until she asks for it.

You will find your calls will go through Faster if you follow these four steps.

Area Codes for most cities are listed in your directory. If you do not know the Area Code or telephone number, just ask the operator for "information" in the distant city. There is no charge for this service.

We at the Telephone Company want to continue to give you the fastest and best service possible.

Hot Cross Buns Are a Lenten Tradition

"One a penny, two a penny, hot cross buns!" That was the cry of the old European street-vender of years gone by. The old-world mood and charm have been recaptured in the new, quick and easy recipe for Hot Cross Buns — a tradition for delicious eating during the Lenten season. Light golden brown Hot Cross Buns, studded with tasty currants, make a spicy treat for any occasion.

They are delicious served as a real accompaniment — or they can be served piping hot, spread generously with butter for breakfast or lunch.

And Hot Cross Buns are a cinch with this new batter type recipe which eliminates bothersome kneading. The recipe for Quick and Easy Hot Cross Buns, using Robin Hood Pre-sifted Flour, was developed by Rita Martin, director of the International Co. home service department.

The "no-knead" method features plus the fact that with Robin Hood Flour you no longer have to sift before baking, adds up to valuable time saved for the busy housewife.

Quick and Easy Hot Cross Buns

2 pkgs. active dry yeast (if cake yeast (2) is used, water should be lukewarm)

1 cup warm (not hot) water

3/4 cups Robin Hood All-Purpose Flour

3/4 cup lukewarm milk

1/4 cup sugar

1 teaspoon salt

1 teaspoon nutmeg

1/2 cup shortening

2 eggs

1 cup currants

Soak — yeast in warm (not hot) water 5 minutes.

Spoon — flour (not sifted) into dry measuring cup. Level off and pour measured flour onto a square of waxed paper.

Combine — milk, sugar, salt, nutmeg, shortening, eggs, softened yeast mixture and half of flour (not sifted) in mixing bowl.

Beat — 2 minutes with electric mixer (med. speed) or by hand (150 strokes per minute) until smooth.

Add — remaining flour (not sifted) and beat for 2 minutes more, or until batter is thick and smooth. Scrape batter down from beater occasionally.

Mix — in currants. Grease 24 muffin cups.

Drop — 1 heaping tablespoon batter into each muffin cup.

Cover — with greased waxed paper and let rise in warm place (80-85 degrees) until double in bulk (about 45 minutes).

Bake — at 375 degrees for 18-20 minutes.

Turn Out — onto baking sheet or waxed paper.

Make — a cross on top of each roll with powdered sugar icing.

Yield — 2 dozen rolls.

Spectacular Fire Leaves 2 Dead

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP)—A spectacular fire killed two men and heavily damaged a catalytic cracking unit Sunday at the Texas Co. refinery, one of the world's largest.

Cause of the blaze and the amount of damage had not been determined. Industry sources said a similar unit would cost $8 to $12 million. Company officials declined comment.

Justice of the Peace Fulton Lee said the dead were Firmin Domez, 44, Nederland, Tex., and Elvin F. East Jr., 43, Port Arthur.

At least one man was injured while fighting the fire. He was not identified.

A little voice keeps telling her that the best things in life are tough and that, if she hasn't had a really bad day with the babies, it's her duty at least to have a respectable set-to over a hot stove. She thinks it's very nice that her face is kept lovely with fancy hormone creams, but she wonders: Is it really decent not to have a single callous — the badge of domestic effort — on her hands?

In the midst of this low trend back to pink-cheeked misery, author Peg Bracken has just come out with the 10th printing of her "I hate to cook book." It begins with a rather tricky recipe (for a dedicated cooking hater) for "sweep steak" (wrap a 2-pound round steak and a package of onion-soup mix in aluminum foil and bake for three to nine hours) and winds up with some ingenious household hints (when you or the children must take a vile tasting medicine, put an ice cube on the tongue for a moment beforehand, it temporarily paralyzes the taste buds.)

In between are some amazing — that's the word my husband used — recipes for entrees and appetizers and desserts that require little more to produce than canned soups, seasonings and gull.

All these recipes are put together with good humor, and they're not really all that simple. There's a "hootenoller whisky case," for instance, that could present problems if you like to taste as you go. And I thoroughly enjoyed the book, although I must admit I haven't tried any of the recipes yet — my husband again likes canned soup in bowls but not in casseroles.

As I mentioned earlier, I believe the trend is away from ease in the kitchen and back to the rosy-cheeked kitchen worker. More and more in supermarkets you can observe women proudly buying fresh vegetables and meats that take longer than five minutes to cook.

Last week, I saw with my own eyes a woman bring my mother a loaf of home-made bread and a jar of home-preserved preserves.

I have been intrigued by new products that advertise slogans like, "it takes a little more trouble, but it's worth it."

I hope Miss Bracken's book sells well, but if it doesn't, probably it's just a victim of bad timing. It's not that women don't still hate to cook, Miss B. It's just that... well... conscience doth make cooks of us all.

Probe Starts of Military Hardware

This Is Nat'l Library Week Over Nation

Red Editor Gets Prison Term

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate takes up today a $13-billion appropriation for military hardware—but the opening of the baseball season may get in the way.

There isn't likely to be too much action in the House, either, as the Washington Senators play the Detroit Tigers in the new D.C. Stadium after President Kennedy throws out the first ball.

The $12,969,300,000 authorization for aircraft, missiles and ships to be taken up by the Senate won unanimous approval from its Armed Services Committee and the House.

Included is $491 million to push development of the high-flying RS70 aircraft. This is $320 million more than Kennedy or Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara asked for or plan to spend on the reconnaissance strike plane.

Although the defense authorization bill included all the unasked RS70 funds voted by the House, it dropped some $96 million of other above-budget items approved there.

These included more than $55 million to buy additional aircraft for the Army, $31 million extra for Army missiles and $10 million additional to provide more Minuteman missiles for the Air Force.

The Armed Services Committee Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., was ready to explain the defense authorization measure as the Senate met at noon. No major opposition was forecast but Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said passage was possible only if no roll-call votes were asked.

The absence of senators who are baseball fans would make a completed rollcall vote unlikely.

House leaders said frankly no business was planned in their chamber because of the ball game. The only major bill listed for House action this week was the appropriation bill providing operating funds for Congress and its related agencies in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee will hear witnesses all week on the administration's $4.9-billion foreign aid request for fiscal 1963.

House committees continue work this week on the foreign relations bill and the administration's trade program.

April 8 to 14 is National Library Week and is being observed with special events in Hope this week. All the schools have special poster displays urging pupils to read more, the adults are urged to utilize our library more.

"Read and watch your world grow" is the theme of National Library Week and this theme will be repeated many times this week in stories, features and civic clubs talks. There will be special radio programs this week in cooperation with the Hempstead County Library.

And here is a special bonus to everyone who may have a long overdue book... you may return it this week without having to pay the usual fine. There will be two special collection points in downtown Hope at Joe's City Bakery and the Diamond Cafe. You may return your books to those places and put them in the special boxes provided for that purpose and pay no fine at all. It's a fine free week and a fine week to "read and watch your world grow."

Setting No Record on His Programs

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's like the sun in your eyes. The flashy things—nuclear test ban talks, disarmament talks, Berlin talks—blot out much of the meat-and-potato business here at home.

That business is President Kennedy's programs.

He has dropped a mob of them in Congress' basket. After three months of 1962, it's a fair time to ask how he is doing with them. It's simply answered: He is setting no records and, at the rate he's going, he won't be.

The list of his proposals passed by Congress is impressively small. Only two items which could remotely be called major programs have won approval of both houses and been signed into law.

In one Congress raised the national debt limit to $300 billion, highest since the war, although it was only a $2 billion increase. The other permits training of up to a million unemployed workers for new skills.

The rest of his programs are either stuck in committees or have been passed by only one house of Congress and will die of exhaustion from waiting until the other House also approves.

Two of his major proposals got a dismal reception. The House killed his plan for a new department of urban affairs and housing. His plan of federal aid for public schools looks as dead as it did last year.

It is understood he will make an all-out pitch to get approval for his program of medical care for the aged, but his efforts on this one so far have not been rocking the walls of the Capitol.

On everything else he is using the same tactics as last year. Using these tactics, strictly professional and unsensational, the President works directly on the members of Congress, or through his aides, while avoiding ill-will, harsh words, or appeals to the public to put pressure on Congress.

The President's personal popularity, as reflected in the public opinion polls, is astonishingly high, too, even if much of his over-all program gets massacred, he'll probably remain highly liked.

Last week, after a lot of bickering among Republicans, Kennedy got the Senate to approve his request for authority to buy up to $100 million in U.N. bonds.

Now the House has to act and that may mean another rocky time of it. The House, but not yet the Senate, approved a boost in postal rates.

The Senate also approved a proposed constitutional amendment to wipe out the poll tax as a requirement for voting. Five

SMOOTH SAILING—Ann Woods hoists sail prior to cruise off Corpus Christi, Tex.

Southern states still have it. This won't get off the ground unless the House also approves. In the Senate the Southern Democrats filibustered a few days and then let the vote be taken. The filibuster was more a gesture for the benefit of the folks back home than a practical effort to stop passage.

The House, but not yet the Senate, passed a tax-revision measure. House and Senate both approved federal aid for college classroom construction, but they did it differently. This can't become law unless they agree on a compromise.

All the other major programs are still bogged down in committees. They include emergency power for the President to cut taxes and launch antirecession public works programs; broadening unemployment insurance; a new farm program; new civil rights legislation; continuation of foreign aid program; drastic revision of the foreign trade program.

Places and Facts Around Arkansas

By J. C. YILLMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Arkansas travelers anxious for true spring to arrive will have a new place to visit for scenic vistas this year—a little known wonderland of rugged natural beauty in southwestern Independence County.

Main attractions in the semi-remote region are a 50-foot waterfall and a panoramic canyon several miles long. Winding along the boulder-lined floor of the three-filled canyon is Grassy Creek, which empties into Salado Creek to the southeast.

The canyon is bounded by sheer rock walls from 200 to 300 feet high. The waterfall, unromantically inappropriately called the Bailey Pour-Off, is located about a mile east of the Independence-

Cleburne County line and some three miles south of State Highway 25.

Bill Meredith figures he has made 107,000 complete round trips and traveled only 4,633 miles. But he also figures that isn't bad, either, if you consider that all the tripping was done in an elevator. Meredith, operator of the Jonesboro post office elevator since 1934, retired this week with lots of memories besides the travel statistics.

He remembers cutting off the electricity in the post office as he left work one day, leaving an employee jammed between floors in the elevator. The employee had asked to use the elevator just before Meredith left. He also remembers that three times, when he stepped into the lobby, his machine was "swiped."

Now that he is retired, Meredith says he hopes to make a few round trips longer than 88 feet.

A lady in Hope said a man called at her home on a recent

Saturday afternoon and asked for food. She gave him a ham and cheese sandwich and quoted the hobo as saying "I have always heard folks were poor in Arkansas, but I didn't expect anything like this!"

She was too exasperated to find out just what parkway he came from.

Blytheville's junior high school Coach Jerry Arant's team was leading an invitational meet at Wilson this past weekend when Arant spied one of his runners out of his lane in the 880-yard relay.

When field judge Leroy Dangeau, who had missed the infraction, was notified by Arant, he disqualified the team in the event, leaving Forrest City with 23 1/2 points and Blytheville with 23.

Dangeau quipped, "I didn't know we had coaches like that any more!"

The year 1961 in Africa brought the first television broadcasting on that continent south of the Sahara Desert.

Resigned Post a Month Ago

BOSTON (AP)—Edward M. Kennedy, the President's youngest son, resigned as an assistant district attorney of Suffolk County nearly a month ago. It was disclosed Monday.

Dist. Atty. Garrett H. Byrne said Kennedy, 30, tendered his resignation March 14, the day he announced formally as a Democratic candidate for nomination to the U.S. Senate.

"It must have been lost in all the excitement about Ted's announcing," said Byrne.

K's Gamble Is Soviet Agriculture

Second in a two-part series on the Communist food crisis.
By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

Soviet Premier Khrushchev's biggest cold war gamble is not Berlin or Viet Nam or any other of the world's hot spots. It is in Soviet agriculture.

He is gambling that he can get away with heresy in a desperate attempt to cure the chronic food troubles which historically beset Soviet and other Communist-ruled lands.

If he wins out in a relatively short period of years, the Kremlin can consider it a victory far more important than taking over a new slice of real estate.

If he loses, he can lose his job. President failure of Communist agriculture is regarded in Washington as one of the most important aspects of the cold war. President Kennedy is known to feel that if the U.S.S.R., while it still is led by those obsessed with the notion of world domination, should ever out-produce the United States in food and consumer goods, the cause of the whole free world would be in danger.

Agricultural failures are common to the whole Red bloc, an ever present reminder to other countries that communism means anything but abundance.

What's the matter with Communist agriculture? Causes of the failures go all the way back to the early days of the Stalin era. Because communism requires blind obedience, other regimes imitated Stalin and suffered similar consequences.

Shortly after Stalin died nine years ago, Khrushchev, rising rapidly to pre-eminence in the party, boldly exposed the frightful mess that was Soviet agriculture. By his account, Soviet output of grain and the livestock population both were lower in 1954 than in czarist 1913.

Soviet agriculture received a heavy blow when Stalin forced collectivization with a campaign of slaughter of unwilling peasants. That brought the U.S.S.R. to the edge of famine.

Food production troubles were intensified by Stalin's insistence that heavy industry, which builds world and military power, retain priority over the consumer side. Khrushchev continues to insist on that but with some modifications.

The investment in heavy industry prevented delivery of sufficient farm machinery, fertilizer and other essentials for modern farming to feed huge populations.

Today as for years—the most productive side of Soviet farming is the private sector, the produce of peasants' own small plots which they sell on the free market. Khrushchev intends eventually to eliminate this, as too closely resembling capitalism. But he must have something in its place.

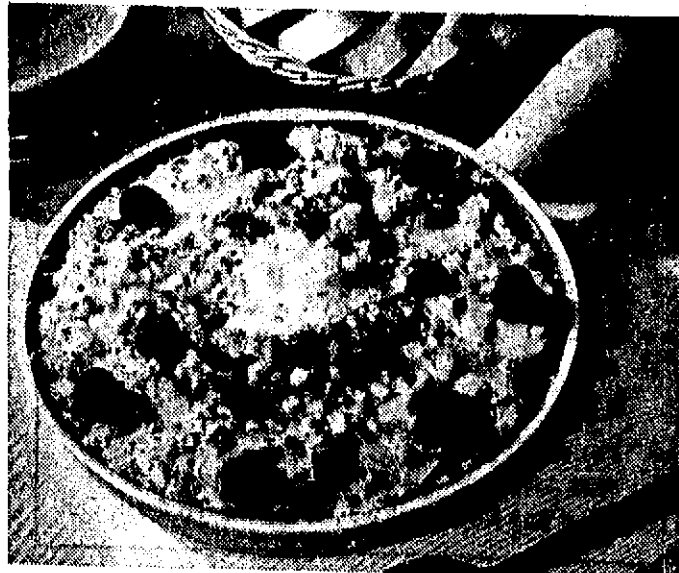

He is seeking what he calls material incentives. He proposes bonuses for production, payment in money to collective farmers instead of in goods, payment of both managers and farmers on the basis of what they produce.

He experiments with decentralized authority. He demands radical reorganization of collective farms. He demands that managers solve their problems on the spot without reference to a central bureaucracy. He demands cost reduction.

Some of his proposals smack of heresy to doctrinaire Communists. The heresies add to the bloc's ideological confusion.

Ripe Olives Glamorize Casserole

Hearty ripe olives extend other foods like magic and they certainly help make a pound of ground beef go a long way glamorously in "Mexicali Casserole." This inexpensive, nutritious and colorful main dish with its zesty south-of-the-border ingredients coupled with the luscious flavor of ripe olives is indeed a satisfying meal accompanied by French bread, a green salad and fruit for dessert.

Pitted ripe olives are a boon to busy homemakers, but if they aren't readily available, it's easy to cut unpitted olives into wedges for casseroles, salads, vegetable specialties and meat and fish sauces. For out-of-hand eating at parties and picnics, roll ripe olives in olive or salad oil to enhance their natural sheen—and don't forget to tuck some into lunch boxes to give a mellow flavor lift to the meal.

Mexicali Casserole

1 lb. ground beef
1 tablespoon salad oil
1/2 cup instant minced onion
1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) whole kernel corn
1 can (1 lb.) stewed tomatoes
1/2 cup yellow corn meal
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons chili powder
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
1 cup pitted ripe olives, drained
Grated Cheddar cheese

Brown beef in oil. Using a fork, break up beef into crumbly consistency. Add onion, corn with liquid and tomatoes. Slowly stir in corn meal, salt, chili powder and Worcestershire. Cook and stir over low heat 10 minutes. Stir in olives. Turn into 1 1/2-quart casserole and sprinkle with cheese. Bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven about 45 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Defies Prediction, Now Is 102

CHICAGO (AP)—The Rev. Thomas J. McCormick, who was told he had only a year to live when he became a missionary to the Indians in South Dakota 60 years ago, observed his 102nd birthday Monday.

Father McCormick, believed to be the nation's oldest Roman Catholic priest, lives in retirement at the Victorian Novitiate in suburban Arlington Heights.

He joined the clerics of St. Victor in 1896 while living in La Salle, Ill., and was ordained in 1894.

Paar Is Gone But Audience Just as Big

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A funny thing happened to NBC's "Tonight Show" during the week after the king of the insomniacs abdicated. The size of the audience remained just about the same as it was during Jack Paar's long reign.

According to estimates of the American Research Bureau, a rating service, the "Tonight Show" last week, in the temporary custody of Art Linkletter, rang up a score almost identical to the weekly ratings Paar achieved—under quiet conditions.

Paar's rating during the last week he was on the program was a couple of points higher than his normal average. But that was because the viewers of his final show were almost double the usual number.

That Linkletter has been able to keep a large number of the population awake—or at least has kept a lot of television sets turned on into the midnight hours—perhaps will come as a great disappointment to the rabid Paar fans, and to Paar himself.

My own explanation is that many people are still watching purely from habit. Over the years, they grew accustomed to the Paar show and now find that it's impossible to turn off their sets and go to bed after the late news. Add to these creatures of habit the large numbers of feminine viewers who have made Linkletter a successful daytime performer over the years, and the result is a sustained rating.

Troubled by High Altitude

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Shortness of breath, probably caused by Mexico City's 7,000-foot altitude, forced visiting President Juan Goulart of Brazil to cancel most of his schedule today. An attending physician said his condition was not serious.

Goulart arrived Monday for a two-day visit on his way home from a state visit to the United States. He became ill during a special performance of the national ballet and returned to his hotel.

The nine-headed armadillo has spread from the Rio Grande country in Texas northward to Kansas and Missouri and eastward to Alabama. Introduced into Florida about 1920, the armadillo flourishes there too.

All At Once—All-Fresh Fruit Salads!

Spring is here and Summer almost... in the air and on our tables. All at once we find several delicious juicy fruits and vegetables in the market, with others soon to come. Fresh fruit salads in particular are such a boon to winter-weary appetites. Even though the first shipment of some fruit may be expensive, use just a little of it to highlight your salad. Next week this fruit will be less dear, as still another comes in to enlarge the fresh-fruit picture.

Dress your wonderful fruits with a light, fresh dressing. A good one is made with a real mayonnaise base thinned with honey and lemon juice and flavored with celery seed. Here's a starter suggestion for a picture-pretty salad. Each day you can create your own pattern as new fresh fruits become available.

All-Fresh Fruit Salad

1/2 pint strawberries
3-4 oranges
1/2 cantaloupe or honeydew
1 melon
3 pears
2 bananas
Lemon juice
Salad greens
1 cup real mayonnaise
1/4 cup honey
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 teaspoons celery seed

Wash and hull strawberries. Peel and slice oranges. From half melon scoop out balls, with fruit half cutter or a teaspoon. Peel pears and bananas. Cut pears in halves and scoop out center seeds. Slice cantaloupe lengthwise, into halves or quarters, then into half lengths. Squeeze juice from 1 large or 2 small lemons and reserve 1 tablespoon of juice for Dressing. Brush pears and bananas with rest of lemon juice to prevent darkening. Place a bed of washed, drained and chilled chicory or other salad greens on large salad platter. Arrange fresh fruit on greens in an attractive pattern. Make HONEY MAYONNAISE DRESSING by adding honey gradually to real mayonnaise, then adding lemon juice and, lastly, the celery seed. Blend thoroughly. Yield: 6 servings each of salad and dressing.

Spanish War Vet's Wife Dies at 82

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A Spanish American War veteran whose wife had been drawing a widow's pension for the last 10 years died Tuesday night.

Francis Elmer Winters, 82, disappeared from his home in Cincinnati in 1945 and was declared legally dead in 1952.

Mrs. Edith Winters' pension was cut off last December when the government notified her it had reason to believe her husband still was alive.

Winters showed up at the Veterans Administration hospital here last Jan. 6 with leukemia.

Mrs. Winters said she learned from Spanish American War Veterans Assn., at Cincinnati last Friday her husband was in the VA hospital and on Saturday she visited him.

"You'll never know how I felt when I walked into that hospital room," she said. "I had thought all those years that he was dead."

D. G. McDermott, government attorney said Mrs. Winters could keep the government money because it was less than Winters would have drawn in pensions.

She was paid $65.00 a month. McDermott said Winters had built up a social security account under an assumed name in the 17 years he had drifted around the country out of contact with his family.

Mrs. Winters, herself ill with Parkinson's disease and arthritis, said she had thought her husband had become an amnesia victim when he disappeared. She came to Malvern, Ark., in 1956 to live with relatives.

Mrs. Winters said her husband formerly had relatives in Arkansas, too. She said when she visited him last Saturday he did not recognize her.

"It's like giving him up twice," she told a newsmen.

Seeks Funds for Watershed Study

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Geological and Conservation Commission will ask Gov. Orval E. Faubus for $1,500 from his emergency fund to keep its small watershed study program in operation.

F. Norman Williams, state geologist, said the action is necessary because the governor ordered the project stepped up when Harrison was flooded last May by Crooked Creek.

The commission pulled its men off other projects and rushed them to that area, Williams said.

Consequently, the commission overspent $4,600 last year, and the federal government paid it, and $1,500 this year, which the state must pay.

States make the watershed studies in order to get projects considered for federal aid. The $50,000 appropriated by the legislature for the program has been spent, Williams said.

Texarkanian Elected

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dr. William R. Patterson of Texarkana was installed Tuesday as president of the Arkansas State Dental Association. President-elect is Dr. R. D. Hardin of North Little Rock. Other officers elected at the 74th annual meeting were Dr. Don M. Star City vice president.

Highways Are Using Up All Federal Aid

By JOHN R. STARR
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Highway Department is running ahead of schedule in utilization of federal aid funds for primary and secondary roads, Highway Director F. R. Oliver told the Highway Commission today.

Oliver said when he became director two and one-half years ago, the department was 20 months behind in use of such funds. But bid openings on $4.5 million of primary and secondary work today dipped into funds from the 1963 apportionment which would not normally be used until July 1, Oliver said.

Only $9 million in federal aid for the primary system and $6 million for the secondary system will be available between now and next April, Oliver said, and the Highway Department will concentrate now on interstate and urban construction for which ample aid funds are available.

The financial situation removes any possibility that a bond issue will be floated to raise money to match federal funds, Oliver said. The commission is authorized to issue bonds if it runs short of matching money.

Part of the improved situation in primary and secondary road construction is due to a long range program put into effect three years ago, Oliver said. The Commission now projects its road building plans three years into the future.

"This has paid off in efficiency," Oliver said. "It has enabled the department to prepare an average of $1 million worth of highway plans a week. It means this money will be on the road where the public can be using it."

Oliver said the department still is about one year behind use of interstate matching funds.

In other action today, the Highway Commission authorized channelization of the Midland Boulevard and Waldron Road intersection of U.S. Highway 64 in Fort Smith. Cost of the project was estimated at $3,000.

The commission decided to buy a three-acre tract on the El Dorado bypass from J. E. Mahoney for $3,000 and to spend $6,000 to improve the land for use of an area headquarters.

It increased from $3,600 to $6,850 the price the director is authorized to pay for a .95 acre tract on state Highway 167 in Union County. The land will be used for a weight station.

Headon Crash Fatal to Pair

CARLISLE, Ark. (AP)—A mother and her infant daughter were killed Tuesday in a head-on car-truck collision near a narrow bridge about one mile south of here on state Highway 13.

State Police identified the victims as Mrs. Margie Piety, 29, of Carlisle and her one-year-old daughter, Iris Marie. Mrs. Piety was driving a pickup truck.

Officers said the driver of the car, Wayne Marsh, 30, also of Carlisle, was taken to a Little Rock hospital but was not believed to be seriously injured.

Hamon of Clarksville, secretary-treasurer, and Dr. Basil Gibbs of annual meeting were Dr. Don M. Star City vice president.

Committee Probes Into Hugh Profits

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators have presented testimony that the Douglas Aircraft Co. made a $1.2 million profit on a Nike missile contract for doing work valued at $3,316.

A Senate subcommittee singled out the contract—in 1956-57, for 1,032 Nike launcher-loader devices—and invited Douglas officials to explain the figures.

The figures on the launcher-loaders were offered by the subcommittee's staff accountant after Douglas President Donald W. Douglas Jr. challenged previous testimony that his company had made profits of $63.81 million on Nike missile contracts since 1952.

Douglas said the firm's actual profits were less than half of that, running to what he said was a reasonable $20.8 million.

He contended the subcommittee's accountants mistakenly included $34.01 million of legitimate business expenses in the profits column.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., called staff accountant Thomas E. Nunnally to testify. Nunnally and Robert E. Dunne, assistant committee counsel, placed in evidence what they described as records from Douglas company files.

Nunnally said these showed that $3,316 was the entire cost to the Douglas Co. for one order for 1,032 Nike launcher-loader devices in 1956-57.

The launcher-loaders, plus some other Nike equipment, were manufactured by Consolidated Western Steel Co., on a subcontract from Douglas, and delivered to the Army with a bill for $15.5 million Nunnally said.

McClellan said that $1,211,790 of this went to Douglas Aircraft and $1,733,286 went to Western Electric Co., the chief contractor.

Sen. Dirksen Coasts to Easy Victory

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Everett Dirksen, Republican leader in the Senate with nearly 28 years' experience in Congress, coasted to an easy victory in the Illinois primary election Tuesday.

The 66-year-old veteran political campaigner, bidding for a third Senate term, piled up a 6-1 victory over Harley D. Jones, 69, a politically unknown Chicago lawyer.

Dirksen, who made his first bid for a Senate seat in 1950, after eight terms as a representative in Congress from the Peoria district, will be opposed in the Nov. 6 general election by Sidney R. Yates, 52, a seven-term congressman from Chicago's North Side.

Yates, with the backing of the regular Democratic party organization, won the nomination over an unsuccessful in 20 years of running for major offices, including the presidency in 1960. Dally, however, made his strongest showing to date and held Yates' victory margin to about 3-1.

Returns from 9,222 of the state's 10,343 precincts gave Dirksen 611,196 votes to 93,701 for Jones.

The primary, the first in the nation this year, was marked by a lack of spirited races. The voting was comparatively light downstate but was exceptionally heavy in Chicago.

The big turnout in Chicago was attributed to the vote on six bond issues totaling $66 million dollars which had the backing of Mayor Richard J. Daley, the state's Democratic leader. All six of the proposals, calling for public improvements, were defeated in a vote which election officials said appeared the highest in a primary since 1942.

Twenty-one members of Congress won re-nominations, with no close contests. Three Republican House members did not seek re-election.

The ancient Chinese attributed medicinal powers to bananas.

Williams Quits Re-election Bid

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Secretary of State Nancy Hall was authorized Tuesday to withdraw the corrupt practice pledge of State Sen. Oliver R. Williams of Sheridan.

Mrs. Hall said Williams withdrew as a candidate for election to his third term as representative from the 16th District for personal reasons.

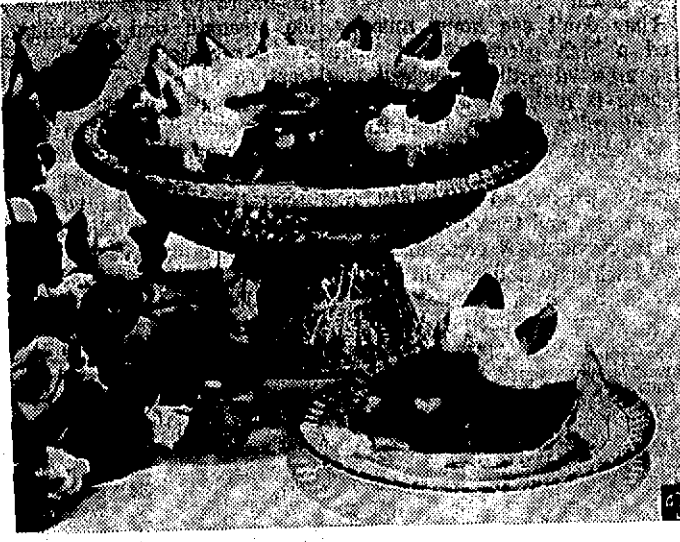

Dub Wells of Hampton is the only other candidate for the post.

Williams, a member of the Legislative Council and the pre-session budget committee, has been in the senate since 1955 County Representative from 1945-54.

He proposed the Natural Resources (NR) truck tags for farmers and timber workers and led efforts to establish the school of forestry at Arkansas A&M in Monticello.

The 16th District includes Calhoun, Cleveland, Dallas, Grant and Bradley counties.

Sweet, Zippy Strawberry Pie

A bright flavored dessert for spring and summer is Strawberry Rose Pie. Fresh berries, juicy and sweet, are "set" in strawberry flavor gelatin to make a cool, refreshing filling for a crispy baked pie shell. A delightful idea for adding variety to fresh strawberry recipes, this pie can also be made with other fruits or berries and fruit flavor gelatin. A suggestion: Fresh blueberries and grape flavor gelatin.

- ### Strawberry Rose Pie
- 1 regular size package (3 ounces) strawberry flavor gelatin
  - 1 to 2 tablespoons sugar
  - 1/4 teaspoon salt
  - 1 cup boiling water
  - 8 to 12 large ice cubes
  - 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
  - 1 pint (2 cups) strawberries, sliced
  - 1 baked 9-inch pie shell
- Whipped cream or dessert topping
- Combine gelatin, sugar and salt. Add boiling water and stir until gelatin is completely dissolved. Add ice cubes and stir constantly 2 to 3 minutes, or until mixture starts to thicken. Remove un-melted ice. Add lemon juice and let stand 2 to 3 minutes. Then add strawberries. Stir. Pour into pie shell. Chill until set, about 3 hours. Garnish with whipped cream or dessert topping, and strawberry halves.

Says Russians Trapped His Daughter

By JOE DILL

CHICAGO (AP) — A distraught father says the Russians trapped his younger daughter behind the Iron Curtain after she returned to Lithuania to marry her high school sweetheart.

"I had warned Regina for a long time that she should not return to (Lithuania) Vilnius," said the father, Paulius Leonas. "I warned her again at the airport. But she didn't want to believe it."

Leonas talked freely but angrily about an article in the Soviet newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda Tuesday. The article quoted his daughter, Regina Leonas 22, as saying the United States was a money-mad society and that she wanted to stay in her native Lithuania and never return to America.

"Our daughter is an actual prisoner," Leonas said. "She would never have made those statements, because they are contrary to her convictions. She was forced by threats of violence."

"Regina would be ashamed if she saw what has been printed about her."

Regina and her brother were separated from their parents for 16 years during and after World War II. Regina returned to Vilnius, capital of Lithuania, last month to marry Stasys Bikulcius, a young music teacher whom she met in high school.

"I'm prepared to fight—to fight for my own family," Leonas asserted. "Regina had loved for that boy, not for Moscow."

Leonas, 45, a real estate broker said Regina had mixed emotions when she left March 21 for Lithuania, formerly a nation but now a state in the Soviet Union.

"She expected happiness in marriage," he said. "She wouldn't believe us when we told her the danger of communism—that the Russians might be setting a trap for her. She had not been entirely happy here because she was lonely for the boy."

Leonas and his wife, Elena, 44, fled their Lithuanian home in 1944 for Germany, leaving Regina and their son, Tomas, now 20, with their maternal grandparents on a farm near Vilnius.

The Leonas' spent three years in Germany, three years in England and three years in Canada before coming to Chicago in 1953. They became citizens in 1958.

From 1944 to 1955, they did not know whether Regina and Tomas were alive.

Mrs. Leonas in 1955 wrote a friend and found that the children were alive. Efforts were initiated to bring them to the United States.

They got a promise from Soviet Premier Khrushchev during his 1959 tour in the United States that Regina and Tomas would be released. They arrived in Chicago in 1960—after 16 years of separation from their parents.

It's a French omelet that we've topped with a crisp and crunchy sprinkling of sauteed cracker crumbs, then filled with a nippy pasteurized process cheese spread. The "crunch" atop this omelet makes it unusual enough to suit Sunday best tastes, while the cheese spread adds that important flavor to satisfy and delight all your guests. You might want to serve this rich and nutritious omelet on meat-less days too, for it's filling enough to keep the heartiest of eaters happy.

If brunch is the meal made extra special with this Omelet Crunch, partner it with frosty glasses of juice, tender, flakey puffs of French pastry and steaming cups of coffee. But when it appears at the supper table, serve it with a crisp green salad, stewed tomatoes and hot rolls—and as a finale, dishes of fresh-chilled citrus fruits topped with a colorful scoop of sherbet.

Churches Talk Plans to Merger

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—A broad scale attempt to unite a large part of American protestantism today was off to a vigorous start.

How far it will get, and at what pace it will move, hinged on many unknown factors.

But leaders of four major denominations, the United Presbyterian, Protestant Episcopal, Methodist and United Church of Christ, not only gave the effort a firm, initial push, but set up machinery to keep it going and expanded it by asking three other church bodies to take part.

The four-way merger project became a likely seven-way affair, involving communions with about 23 million members.

Wednesday, at the end of a two-day conference held to make a preliminary appraisal of the prospects, denominational representatives said they found grounds for genuine confidence that such a united church could become a reality.

"Decisions made and attitudes revealed here carried us much further than we had dared hope," said the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of Philadelphia, chief executive of the United Presbyterian Church.

Similar reactions came from leaders of the three other denominations.

The conference, which originally planned to defer any operational decisions until the next meeting, acted instead to set up immediately a continuing consultation on church union.

The Rev. Dr. James I. McCord, president of Princeton Theological Seminary, Presbyterian, was named chairman, and Methodist Charles C. Parlin, a New York lawyer, was named secretary.

Although the next full meeting won't come until a year from now, subcommittees were to work during the interim to try to resolve various issues.

The three other denominations being invited to join in the effort are the Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ), the Evangelical United Brethren and the Polish National Catholic Church of America.

The Expense Account Gets Closer Look

By SAM DAWSON
AP YORK NBews Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The expense account way of life is up for a closer look these days.

Many businessmen are protesting loudly, and so are some forms of business that profit from outlays of free spenders who in the past have written off the costs on their tax returns.

But despite the protests, the Internal Revenue Service says it will scrutinize more closely the income tax returns now being filed or fretted over, and will take a primer view of just what is a reasonable cost of doing business.

And the Senate is studying a House passed tax measure billed as outlawing some past laxness and putting some limits on how much spending should be deductible.

The tightening of tax forgiveness of expense spending touches many facets of American life—all the way from a night on the town to taking your wife to a convention.

Involved are the folk habits of businessmen in going after sales and the financial health of such groups as the entertainment industry. But also in the picture are discussions of business ethics, and even of what the average American thinks business ethical standards really are, as apart from the pious public utterances about them.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin has put businessmen on notice that this year the taxmen will cast a fishy eye on spending that is only remotely connected with business activity.

And he has warned that a wife must be closely connected with such business activity to qualify as a deduction when tabulating the costs of a trip or entertainment of a customer.

Worse for many persons will be the tax collector's insistence that better records of expense spending must be kept—more receipts or canceled checks, and fewer lump sum estimates.

As for the future, the bill now before Congress will blacklist for deduction purposes much spending where entertainment is the obvious factor.

You'll have to prove that taking a customer to the ball game or on a hunting trip is actively connected with doing business. And if you own a yacht, swimming pool or fishing camp you'll have to prove that at least 50 per cent of its use is for business purposes if you want to write it off on the expense account. The same goes for club dues if use for business is only casual and rare.

And the bill contemplates putting a limit of $25 on the amount that can be deducted in any one year for business gifts to a single person. The lawmakers think that shows appreciation enough of a customer or a supplier.

The taxmen call all the changes, current or contemplated, reasonable. Many who have enjoyed an almost-free night on the town or a trip to the Big City—a fishing and hunting vacation in Canada—are agast at the prospect of another way of life.

Cigarette Lighter Lighting New Fad

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—A new college sport takes its place today beside telephone-booth stuffing, bed pushing, bed floating, small-car cramming and darts.

The sport is cigarette lighter lighting.

And student participants at Riverside City college have tossed a challenge to collegians everywhere:

Beat the 34-minutes, 34 seconds of continuous lighter-burning achieved by Bobby Allen, member of Sigma Rho Chi fraternity.

Allen won in Class A competition with about 30 members of several fraternities, they announced Monday.

The collegians said the contest was supervised by two timers, two judges and two scorekeepers.

Way to Help Artificial Teeth Grow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Back pains and a way to help artificial teeth work better are medical topics this week.

and slammed into the cab, killing Carter instantly.

Psychoanalysts, like many other people, do most of their work sitting down.

They don't use many muscles, and a high percentage of them are afflicted with backaches. The reason is mainly too little physical exercise, say Dr. Hans Kraus and Sonya Weber of New York City.

They prescribed muscular fitness tests, and then exercises, for 26 psychoanalysts complaining of low back pain and pain in the upper back, neck, shoulders and legs. After continued regular exercises, eight were free of pain and the rest had definite relief. All improved considerably in muscle strength and flexibility, Dr. Kraus reports.

Denture Fit

Now there's a way to help artificial teeth "grow" so they will meet properly with teeth in the opposing upper or lower jaw.

Natural teeth are continuously erupting, and this allows them to keep meeting despite normal wearing down, explains Dr. Bernard Jenkelson of Seattle. When people get false teeth, the original fit may be good, but the wearing process eventually allows a denture to become loose.

In a new technique, porcelain teeth are used in the upper denture, and acrylic or plastic ones in the lower. If wearing occurs, so the dentures loosen, a plastic coating can be added to the tops of the lower teeth to bring them into close contact with the uppers again.

Nearly 35 million gas ranges now are in daily service in the United States.

Robbers Crack Bank of Ireland

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—A gang of safecrackers failed by a couple of inches to grab $50,000 from the underground vaults of the Royal Bank of Ireland over the weekend.

The gang cut their way through a one-foot thick steel outer door and all but a few inches of a similar inner door leading to the strong room.

They used oxyacetylene cutting equipment which they connected to the bank's electric power system.

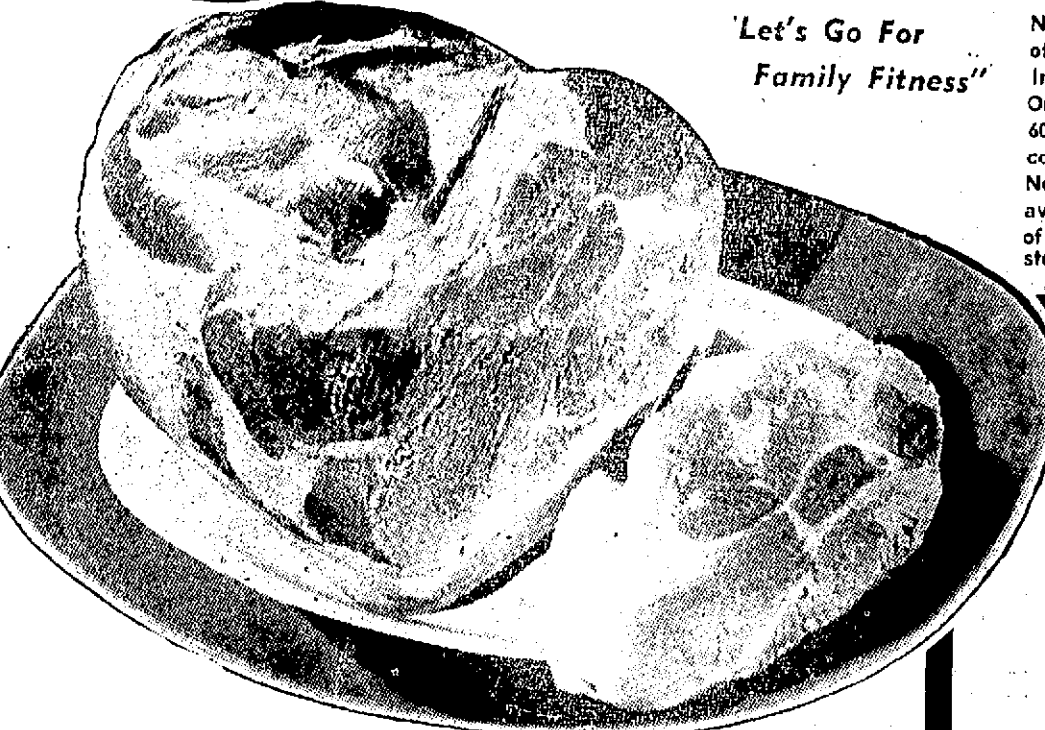

They hacked in frustration at the lock of the safe but failed to open it. Police thought the cutting gear failed at the crucial moment.
